THE TWO KINDS OF KNOWLEDGE: PARA AND APARA VIDHYAS

The great tradition of the transmission of knowledge through Acharya Mukham is recorded in Mundaka Upanishad as a conversation between Brahma, the creator and his eldest son, Atharva about the knowledge of BRAHMAN, the corner stone of ALL knowledge. Atharva taught what he had learned from his father to Angira, who in turn taught it to Satyava, belonging to the clan of Bharadvaja; Satyava passed that supreme knowledge in succession to Sage Angiras.

Saunaka, the celebrated grahastha approached Sage Angiras and asked humbly: “O Illustrious sage! kasminnu Bhagavo vig~nyathE sarvamidham vig~nAtham bhavathee? (What is that by the knowing of which all this becomes known?)

Sage Angiras replied: "two kinds of knowledge needs to be known according to the knowers of Brahman. They are the higher knowledge (parA) and the lower knowledge (aparA)."

Sage Angiras explained further that the lower knowledge is the Rig Veda, the Yajur Veda, the Saama Veda and Atharva Veda, Siksha (phonetics), kalpa (rituals), vyakarana (grammar), Niruktha (etymology), chandasa (metre) and Jyotisham (astronomy); and the higher knowledge is that by which the imperishable Brahman is attained.

Sage Angiras said: "dhvE vidhyE vEdhithavyE ithi ha sma yadh Brahma vidhO vadanthi ParA chaivAparA cha". AparA are the four Vedas and their six angAs to understand the nature of Dharma and the ParA is the knowledge about the imperishable (akshaya) Brahman, which is the embodiment of Dharma. That omniscient, Omnipotent, all merciful Brahman has been defined as the source/origin, sustenance and dissolution of this multifaceted world according to the second Brahma Sutram (Janmadhyasya yatha). That Brahman is cognized only through the scriptures, the sources of authoritative knowledge about Brahman (Saasthra yOnithvAth: Brahma-sUthram 1.3). The next Brahma Sutram goes on to point out that Brahman is the main purport of all Vedic and upanishadic texts (tatthu samanvayAth). Thus one can not dismiss the Vedas quickly as apara vidhya and jump on to Para vidhya. Rigorous study of the Vedas reveal to us the approach to Brahman, the para Vidhya, the ultimate goal for us all.

THE FOUR CATEGORIES OF KNOWLEDGE IN THE VEDAS

THE FOUR VEDAS CONTAIN FOUR IMPORTANT CATEGORIES OF KNOWLEDGE RELATED TO DHARMA:

(1) Injunctions and Prohibitions
(2) Valedictory (praise) and deprecatory passages
(3) Mantras and
(4) Names
All these four are necessary to understand true DharmA or righteous duty from different angles. Thus an inquiry in to them through the study of the VedAs becomes an essential pre-requisite in one's journey towards the comprehension of Brahman (para VidhyA). The authority of the VedAs for us is supreme and final and hence a proper understanding of them with the help of a qualified AchAryA sets us on a safe footing to comprehend Brahman and achieve the parama purushArtham of Moksham. Our tradition is therefore called Vaidhikam or the one based on the authoritativeness of the VedAs.

THE FOUR KINDS OF VEDA SAMHITHAS:

ATHARVA SAMHITHA

Rig, Yajur, Saama and Atharva samhithAs constitute the four VedA samhithAs. Each of them have more than one branch (SaakA). The oldest VedA is recognized as Rig Vedam and the youngest is the Atharva Vedam. Latter has nine branches or rescensions (navadhAatharvaNO vedas). These nine branches are: (1) PaippalAda (2) Tauda (3) MuNda (4) SaunakIya (5) Jaajala (6) Jalada (7) BrAhmaveda (8) Devadarsa and (9) ChAraNavaidya. Today, only two of the nine branches of Atharva Vedam (Saunakha and PaippalAda) are available to us. The Delhi Vedic trust has recorded the Saunakha sAka .

The Atharva Veda samhithA has 5977 verses spread over 20 KhAndams (books/chapters). The khAndams are further subdivided into hymns and they in turn house a group of manthrAs. Some prefer to catalogue the Atharva Veda Text (SamhithA)into prapaathakAs (Lessons or lectures). Under this classification, there are 34 prapAthakAs that house the 5977 verses. Among NammAzhwAr's four Tamil Prabhandhams, Periya ThiruvanthAdhi is considered as the essence of Atharva Vedam.

The Delhi Vedic trust has recorded the 20 KhAndhams of Atharva Vedam in 14 audio tapes. I have now enjoyed listening to two of the twenty khAndams.

RG VEDA SAMHITHA

This ancient Vedam has 1,028 sUkthams (hymns) and contains in all 10,589 verses. These are grouped into either 8 KhAndAs or 10 MandalAs with 85 anuvAkAs (subsections). There used to be 21 sakAs (redactions) of the Rig VedAs. There is only one available today. That is Saakala SaakA. IythrEya Upanishad belongs to Rig Veda SamhithA. NammAzhwAr's Thiruviruttatham is considered as the Veda SaarArtham of Rig Vedam.

The Delhi Vedic Trust has recorded Saakala sAkA in 27 ninety minute tapes. During my father's sathAbhishEkam celebration, there was one Rig Vedic expert from Mayavaram, who recited that samhithA. He was lost in the ghOsham of Saama and KrishNa yajur Vedams. My great desire to hear the authentic rendition of the Rig Vedam is now satisfied.

YAJUR VEDA SAMHITHA

This Vedam has 1975 verses grouped under 40 chapters known as adhyAyAs. The longest chapter has 117 "verses" and the shortest chapter has 13 "verses". There are two Yajur samhithAs: Sukla and KrishNa (White and Black) samhithAs. The White Yajur Veda samhithA is also known as VajasanEyi -MadhyAndina Sukla Yajur vedam to distinguish it from KrishNa Yajur Veda or Taittiriya SamhithA, which is generally considered to be more close to a BrahmaNA rather than to a Sruthi. Most of the people in AndhrA and Tamil Naadu are KrishNa Yajur Vedins.

The two samhithAs have number of recensions in view of their wide popularity. These variations arose from a variety of textual differences and their applications in Vedic rituals. The two popular recensions of the Sukla Yajur Vedam are: MaadhyAndhina and KaaNva; the KrishNa Yajur Vedam has three recensions: kAtaka, Kapishtala-Kata and MaithrAyaNee.

SAAMA SAMHITHA

In its importance in YaagAs and sacredness, Saama Veda SamhithAs rank next to Rig VedA. The Lord of GeethA however has put this Saama samhithA on the top of all four SamhithAs with His declaration that He is Saama VedA among the VedAs. This samhithA consists of hymns chanted by udhgAtri priests at the Soma YaagAs. Many of the hymns originate from Rig Vedam and have been rearranged without reference to the original order in the Rig Vedam and set to music. Only 75 verses of the total of 1,875 verses of Saama Vedam are not to be found in Rig Vedam. The remaining 1,800 verses are essentially the repetitions of Rig Vedic verses. The important distinction however is that they are sung instead of being recited. The Rig Vedam deals with knowledge and Saama Vedam deals with UpAsanA, Worship and DhyAnam.

According to one classification, the Saama samhithA is catalogued under two sections: PurvArchikA and UttarArchikA. Each archikA is subdivided into prapaathakAs and adhyAyAs. In another classification, the 1875 verses are grouped under FOUR categories:

1. PurvArchikA: 585 verses (1-585)
3. MahAnAmnyArchikA: 10 verses (641-650)
4. UttarArchikA: 1225 verses (651-1875)

In singing, the priests of the Yaj~nams follow specific styles through alteration of prolongation, repetition, modulation, rests et al. These become the various styles of Saama GhAnams: congregational (GrAma gEya GhAnam), AraNya ghAnam (Forest song style), Uha ghAnam and Uhya GhAnam.

Saama Vedam had originally 1001 branches. We have very few left now. NammAzhwAr's celebrated Thiruvaimozhi is recognized as the Saama Veda SaarArtham.

UPANISHADS AND VEDA SAAKAAS

Upanishads are found in the concluding sections of the Veda Saakaas and hence are known as Vedanta or the end of the Vedas. There are four Veda Samhitas (Rg, Yajur, Sama and Atharva). The Yajur Vedam has two Samhitas known as the Krishna and Sukla Yajur Vedas. Hence, One can say that there are 5 Veda Samhitas, if we take into account the 2 Samhitas of Yajur Veda. Each of the 4 Samhitas referred to above has several branches or Säkaas. Each Säka has a Karma Khandha dealing with the actions to be performed and is made up of Mantras and Brähmanaas. Latter deals with Upasana or meditation and has Aranyakas inside them for the benefit of those who have resorted to the quiet habitat of the forest to pursue their spiritual Quest. The Upanishads are found mostly in the Aranyak section of the Vedas.

The traditional view is that Vyasa Bhagavan has classified the four Vedas into 1180 Säkaas and each of these Säkaas is associated with an Upanishad. Hence, One anticipates 1180 Upanishads. According to this view, there must have been 21 Upanishads for the 21 Rg Säkaas, 109 for Yajurveda, 1000 for Sama Veda and 50 for the Atharva Veda. Most of these Säkaas have been lost with the passage of time and we are left with 108 Upanishads today. The breakdown among the 108 Upanishads according to the 5 Veda Samhitas are as follows:

1. Rg Veda : 10
2. Sama Veda : 16
3. Atharva Veda : 31
4. Krishna Yajur Veda : 32
5. Sukla Yajur Veda : 19
THE SIGNIFICANCE OF UPAKARMA
An Explanation of the Vedic Ritual of Yajur Upakarma, known in Tamil as “Avani Avittam”

Contribution by Vijayaraghavan Srinivasan

UPAKARMA (AVANI AVITTAM): NATURE AND PURPOSE
Upakarma (/upaakarma/) means beginning or “Arambham”, i.e. to begin the study of the Veda (Veda Adhyayanam). For example, Yajur Upakarma means to begin the study of the Yajur Veda. Those belonging to the Yajur Veda observe the Upakarma in the month of Sravana (August-September), on the day of the full moon (paurnami). Why begin study of the Vedas on this particular day? This auspicious day also happens to be the day when Lord Narayana took the avatara as Lord Hayagriva. Lord Hayagriva as we all know restored the Vedas to Brahma and also is the God of Knowledge.

The next question is: why do this every year? In the not too distant a past, Veda Adhyayanam was performed only during the period Avani to Tai (from mid-August to mid-January). Therefore, one is supposed to perform an “utsarjanam” in the month of Tai, i.e., a giving up of the learning of Vedas from Tai to Avani. Just like a Upakarma function there was a Utsarjana function in Tai. The period between January to August was then devoted to learning other branches of our shastras. Thus the cycle of Upakarma and Utsarjana with regard to Vedic studies was established. However, this method took 12 or more years to learn just one veda. Slowly this became impractical and Vedic studies continued throughout the year.

Therefore, the first thing to do before the Upakarma function is to do a praayaschitta (atonement) for having learned Vedas during the prohibited period. Specifically, one atones for not having performed the Utsarjanam in the month of Tai. That’s why we begin the function by doing the “kAmo’ karshIt…” japam. The purpose is declared as “adhyAya-utsarjana-akarana-prAyaScittArtham.” (to atone for not doing the utsarjana of Vedic study) and the sankalpam continues as “...ashTottara-sahasra-sankhyayA kAmo’karshIt manyur akArshIt mahA-mantra-japam karishye” (I will now do recite the great “kAmo’kArshIt” mantra 1008 times). The meaning in Tamil is “kAmaththAl seyya pattadhu, KOpaththAl seyya pattadhu” -- done out of desire, done out of anger. The correct way of chanting this mantra is “kAmo’karshIt manyur akArshIt”. Don't add nama: nama: etc. The right time to perform is immediately after your morning anushthanam like sandhya, samidaad aanam (if you are a brahmachari), brahma-yajnam etc. This is performed during the abhigamanam kaalam. Brahmacharis are supposed to have a hair-cut (preferably by a man!) after this.

THE KANDA RISHIS AND THEIR SIGNIFICANCE
We saw that the “kAmo’karshIt manyur akArshIt” japam is done with a sense of contrition. Who else but Vasudeva can bear the burden of our acts of omissions and commissions with regard to shastras? SAdramayena sthira pradIpena -- Daya Devi (compassion of the Lord personified) lights the lamp of shastras so that the jiva can find its way to its home in the Absolute.
After the kamo’ karsheeth japam, we proceed to perform the Upakarma function. It is done after mAdhyAhnikam and bhagavad-ArAdhanam (ijyA). The main purpose of the Upakarma function is to offer prayers and express our gratitude to those rishis who gave us the Vedas -- the rishis through whom the Vedic mantras were revealed. These rishis are known as “kaanda rishis”. There are different rishis for the different Vedas. We are expected to worship those rishis who belong to our shakha or branch of the Veda, one of Yajur, Rk, Samam etc. The Yajur Veda consists of 4 kaandams. These are known as

1. prAjApatya kaaNDam
2. saumya kaaNDam
3. Agneya kaaNDam and
4. vaishvadeva kaaNDam.

These kaandams are named after those rishis who first taught the Vedas, viz., Prajapati, Soma, Agni and Vishvadeva. Subsequently we also offer our prayers to the Upanishads saamhiti, yaajniki, and vaaruni, and finally to Svayambhu and Sadasaspati, through whom the Yajur Veda came down to us.

The sankalpam is mainly taken for performing the Upakarma Homam. Then we say tad angam snAnam karishye, tad angam yajnopavIta-dhAraNam karishye, tad angam kANDarshi tarpaNam karishye -- which implies that all other activities like snaanam, yajnopaveeta dhaaranam, tarpanam etc., are only performed as an ‘angam’ or subsidiary to the Upakarma Homam (which is the angi or primary).

In the Upakarma Homam as well as in the tarpanam, the offerings are made to the kaanda rishis. In fact this tarpanam is so important that it is included as part of our nitya karma-anushthaanam, our daily worship. There are other minor points that are worth noting:

Brahmacharis should wear maunji (belt made of sacred grass), ajinam (deerskin) and dandam (stick made of palaasa wood) after they wear the poonool (sacred thread). There are separate mantras for each.

It is said that: purAtanAn parityajya which implies that you should wear a new set of clothes (veshti and uttarIyam) before the tarpanam and homam.

It is also said that: kAndarshi tarpaNa-kAle punaH snAtvA Ardra vastra eva tat kuryAt, i.e, before performing the kaanda rishi tarpanam you should once again take a dip in the water and do it with wet clothes.

The rishi tarpanam is done with the poonool in the nivita position (like a garland) and the water along with rice and sesame seeds should leave the root of the small finger.

In some traditions you fast on the Upakarma day or at least fast till the end.

In some traditions a general pitr tarpanam is also done.

For each of the following, offer a mixture of (uncooked) rice, black sesame seeds (eL), and water, as you say ‘tarpayAmi’. Each line should be said THREE times. Preferably, someone should help by pouring the water as you release the rice and sesame, as this makes it easier.

Stand facing north, wear the yajnopavItam as a necklace (nivItam). Cup both your hands together, having the yajnopavItam's brahma-mudi (knots) resting in your palms and with the threads going between your thumb and forefinger of each hand. The water should be released along with the sesame and rice between the two hands, at the base of the little fingers. This is known as Rshi tIrtham.

Now, still with nivItam, the water mixture should be released towards you, off of the base of the hands near the palms (i.e., away from the fingertips). Typically this is done by pointing the fingers straight up, keeping the sides of the hands together. This is known as brahma-tIrtham.

Traditionally there is now a upAkarma homa, where the rishis and devatAs mentioned above are once again saluted using the sacred fire. Then there is vedArambha, where the first four anuvAkas of the yajur veda samhita are taught to the sishyas. This is the most important part of the upAkarma. This is followed by jayAdi homam.

These may not be available if one is away from one’s elders and acharyas. At minimum, it is recommended that you recite one anuvAka from your veda on this day. The Purusha Sukta suffices, for example. If you haven’t learnt any of your veda, you should do gAyatrI japam in its place.

(a) On the UpAkarma day, strictly speaking, the rule is to eat only after bhagavad-ArAdhana and the homam. If done properly this lasts well into the afternoon. Because of the length of the procedure, young brahmacharis and those others who are absolutely unable to bear their hunger are permitted to eat before the homam itself. The typical meal consists of idli and appam, but usually excludes rice. Complete fasting is observed after this through the night, in preparation for the next day's gAyatrI japam. In some traditions one meal is eaten during the day and phalAhAram is observed at night.

(b) The mantra for the kAmo'kArshIt japam is “kAmo'kArshIt manyur akArshIt”. Most authorities end with this, and do not follow it by anything else. However, in some traditions, the mantra is “kAmo'kArshIt manyur akArshIt namo namaH”.

(c) Some people also change their yajnopavItam before the kAmo'kArshIt japam, in addition to the changing done for upAkarma itself. It should be remembered that the changing before upAkarma is the more important one, and if one only wants to change once, the upAkarma changing is preferred.

The reason for this is as follows. the kAmo'kArshIt japam is done as an atonement, a prAyA-scittan for not having done the traditional utsarjana sankalpa earlier in the year. The sankalpa for the japam says this explicitly (‘adhyAya-utsarjana-akaraNa’). Just as upAkarma is the formal recommencement of Vedic studies, the utsarjana is a sankalpa done to formally halt study of the Vedas and commence study of grammar, prosody, pronunciation, astronomy, etymology, etc., as well as other shastras, all of which are helpful in understanding the Vedas. The year was therefore divided into two, one half for studying the Vedas, the other half for studying the VedAngas or Vedic accessories.

The utsarjana has unfortunately fallen into disuse for quite a while, so what remains is the meager prAyA-scittan for not having done it. Therefore, the important yajnopavItam changing is for the upAkarma.

(d) sAttvika tyAgam It is a moment of contemplation whereby one dedicates the act and all its fruits entirely to Bhagavan, and where one recognizes that Bhagavan himself is performing the act through you entirely for His own purposes. Typically, as an expression of this attitude, a brief sentence is stated before and after performing the karma.

(e) It is often erroneously thought that upAkarma or AvaNi aviTTam is primarily the changing the yajnopavItam (poonool). This cannot be further from the truth. Changing the poonool happens very often, whenever a significant vedic karma is performed. UpAkarma, however, is a rededication of oneself to the study of one’s Veda, along with salutations to the rishis who perceived and revealed the Vedic mantras to the world. This is the significance of the navakAndarshi tarpaNam and the anuvAka recitation.
